From Critical AI Literacy to Knowledge Evaluation Skills

A TWO-DAY PRACTICAL, IN-PERSON WORKSHOP

A practical, hands-on workshop to help educators keep teaching, learning and assessment relevant in an AI-infused world.

DATES

22 – 23
September 2026

TIME (BOTH DAYS)

08:30 – 16:30

VENUE

Hugenote College,
Wellington

PRESENTER

Dr Kirstin Krauss

FORMAT

In-person workshop

WORKSHOP CONTENT

This workshop explores how educators can move beyond traditional approaches to assessment and develop knowledge evaluation, critical thinking and responsible AI-use skills for an AI-infused world. Through practical activities, discussion and hands-on exercises, participants will gain the tools to design relevant, discipline-specific assessment tasks that foster deeper learning.

KEY OUTCOMES

- ✓ Apply core principles for knowledge-evaluation focused teaching, learning and assessment.
- ✓ Understand AI risks, hallucinations and biases – and what they mean for knowledge workers and teachers.
- ✓ Develop critical AI literacy and strengthen critical thinking skills.
- ✓ Explore responsible and ethical use of Generative AI in education.
- ✓ Design discipline-specific assessment tasks that emphasise knowledge evaluation and application.
- ✓ Use practical AI tools for topic discovery, literature reviews, writing and feedback.
- ✓ Create class contracts and strategies to guide the use of GenAI in teaching, learning and assessment.

PLEASE BRING YOUR OWN LAPTOP

Hands-on activities will be conducted throughout the workshop.
